Dear colleagues,

IPA III programming pretty much covers a significant number of issues of particular importance to the region. We think it would be important to highlight the topic of spatial planning and housing in the Green Agenda and Sustainable Connectivity thematic priority. Space management and the way spatial resources are used in relation to meeting the need for housing, but also the counter-commodification process are closely related to the topic, the environmental impact of cities and the overall objectives defined by this segment of the program.

Regarding the proposal for preparation a strategic response from the user, I think you should give the sublimated suggestions to brief online consultations and then pass it on to several addresses. Some of the addresses may be RCC (Regional Cooperation Council), Western Balkan Fund, RYCO and the organizers of the Berlin Process - Bulgaria and Macedonia. These are all bodies that have in their boards or organization, high level representatives of public administrations from the region. Ask them for proposal placement.

All the best
ADP-Zid team
